GEORGE WASHINGTON A NORTH CAROLINA LANDOWNER

By Prentiss Price and William Perry Johnson

It is a little known fact that not only did George Washington help survey the Great Dismal Swamp area in southeast Virginia and northeast North Carolina, but he, with his brother-in-law Fielding Lewis, owned nearly 1100 acres of land in North Carolina for a quarter of a century!

In 1766, Washington and Lewis purchased 1093½ acres of land in Perquimans (later Gates) Co., N. C., from Marmaduke Norfleet. This land lay on the southwest side of the Great Dismal Swamp, in that part of Perquimans Co. which became Gates Co. in 1779. The land was sold in 1791 to John Cowper of Gates Co. The interesting story of this land, fully documented, follows.

Douglas Southall Freeman's George Washington (six volumes; a seventh by Carroll and Ashworth) contains these pertinent references to George Washington, the Great Dismal Swamp, and Washington's and Lewis's land adjoining it:

> In May 1763 George Washington made his first journey to the Great Dismal Swamp area. (Vol. 3, pp94-95)
> In October 1763 George Washington made another journey to the Great Dismal Swamp, visiting its southern border in North Carolina, "where he saw some excellent land he subsequently determined to purchase." (See Fitzpatricks Writings of George Washington, Vol. 2, p. 411.) The Dismal Swamp Company was organized. George Washington, Fielding Lewis, and Dr. Thomas Walker were to survey the area. (Vol. 3, pp. 101-103)
> In April 1766 George Washington and Fielding Lewis made a journey to the Great Dismal Swamp. "They decided to purchase on their own account approximately 1100 acres of Marmaduke Norfleet's land on the southern side of the swamp, partly in Virginia and partly in North Carolina, for 1200 Pounds Virginia currency." "Washington believed in the future of the Swamp." (Vol. 3, pp. 162-163)
> In November 1766 George Washington made a journey to the Great Dismal Swamp. "Many details had to be arranged in the settlement of accounts with Marmaduke Norfleet, from whom Washington and Fielding Lewis had bought the land near the Virginia-North Carolina line." (Note says to see the Settlement of 22 Nov. 1766 in the Washington MSS, Henry E. Huntington Library, San Marino, California. Norfleet had supplied wheat, sows, beef, and corn for the Negro hands sent to work at or close to Norfleet's property.) (Vol. 3, pp. 175-176)

In April 1767 George Washington made a journey to the Great Dismal Swamp. (Vol. 3, p. 181)
In October 1768 George Washington made a journey to the Great Dismal Swamp. (Vol. 3, p. 208)
(No further references to the Norfleet land is indexed in Freeman. Washington made no more journeys to the Great Dismal Swamp and there were apparently no meetings of the Dismal Swamp Company until after the close of the Revolutionary War. The Company, which had put Negro hands to clearing the land and ditching, produced little besides an occasional batch of shingles.)

Perquimans Co., N. C., Deed Book G, pp. 321-324 - Deed No. 187 - 26 April 1766 - Marmaduke Norfleet of Perquimans Co. to George Washington and Fielding Lewis of the Colony of Virginia, Gentlemen - consideration: 1200 Pounds current money of Virginia - two tracts willed sd Marmaduke Norfleet by Thos. Norfleet, dec'd. (will proved Nansemond Co., Va.), being half the tract sd Thos. Norfleet purchased from one William Jones for 275 acres, 5 April 1697, and the other the sd Thos. purchased from one Charles Drury for 40 acres, 26 July 1721; also one other tract granted to sd Marmaduke Norfleet by Earl of Granville, 23 April 1760, for 450 acres - all three tracts situated in Perquimans Co. at a place called the White Oak Spring. Also, another tract lying near the sd three tracts, partly in Perquimans Co. and partly in Chowan Co., and granted to sd Marmaduke by Earl of Granville, 23 July 1760 - all sd four tracts contain by estimation 1093½ acres. Signed by name. Witnesses: Lemuel Riddick, Phil. Alston, Willy Riddick. MEMORANDUM: "It is agreed by the parties to these presents that if there shall ever happen any dispute concerning any part of the marsh land hereby sold and conveyed between the Exors., heirs or assigns of John Norfleet dec'd. and the said Washington and Lewis their heirs or assigns that their expence of the said dispute shall be borne by them and if any part of the said marsh received from them that their the said Marmaduke his heirs, Exors. or assigns(?) shall pay and satisfy the said Washington and Lewis their heirs and assigns for each acre so recovered the sum of twenty two shillings current money of Virginia." Signed: Marmaduke Norflet. Witnesses: John Washington, William Pugh. Proven 25 May 1766 by oath of Lemuel Riddick. Jas. Hassel, C. J. Registered in Perquimans Co., 5 June 1766. Test John Harvey, Regisr.

"The Virginia Gazette" (Purdie & Dixon), 9 May 1766: "To be sold at Suffolk, on Nansemond river, a Quantity of well drawn 18 inch Cypress shingles at 10s a thousand..." /S/ John Washington.

"The Virginia Gazette" (Rind), 23 June 1768: "Nansemond, June 20, 1768. Runaway from the Subscriber, some time in April 1767, a new Negro man named Tom, belonging to the proprietors of the Dismal Swamp." /S/ John Washington.

George Washington's Diary for 26 October 1768: "Dined & Lodg^{d} in the Dismal Swamp at Jno Washington's."

It seems probable that John Washington, as Manager of the Dismal Swamp Company, also looked after the private holdings of Washington and Lewis. Lund Washington, writing in the late 1840's, said that his uncle John Washington (14 March 1739/40-14 March 1777) of Stafford Co., Va., "was appointed Manager of the Dismal Swamp Company, which situation he held at the commencement of the War of the Revolution, when he was appointed a Captain in one of the Virginia Regiments of Infantry....He died in the Service...."

Halifax Co., N. C., Deed Book 17, p. 348 - Power of Attorney - 24 Jan. 1791 - George Washington of Mount Vernon in Virginia, Power of Attorney to John Lewis of Fredericksburg, Virginia. Whereas said George Washington with Fielding Lewis Esq., dec'd., late of Fredericksburg in Virginia, purchased a tract of land in Gates County in North Carolina, containing about 1093½ acres, now I appoint said John Lewis my Attorney to convey said land and all my right, title to it to John Cooper Senr. by deed or deeds. Witnesses: Jno. Steele, Jno. B. Ashe. Registered 1 Dec. 1791.

In January 1791, President Washington was in Philadelphia (he had become President in 1789). The two witnesses to the foregoing Power of Attorney, General John Steele (1764-1815) of Rowan Co., N. C., and John Baptiste Ashe (1748-1802), then of Halifax Co., N. C., were also in Philadelphia as members of Congress. Ashe probably had this Power of Attorney registered on his return home. John Lewis (1747-1825) was the eldest son and heir of Colonel Fielding Lewis (1725-1781). Fielding Lewis had married George Washington's sister Betty in 1750, but his eldest son and heir, John Lewis, was by his first wife, Catherine Washington, a first cousin to George and Betty.

George Washington took his Southern tour in 1791, and spent a weekend in Halifax, N. C., apparently his one and only visit to that town and county. He arrived at Halifax at 6 p. m. on Saturday, 16 April 1791, and left early on Monday, 18 April. (Freeman, pp. 298, 310) It is quite possible that he, rather than Ashe, took the Power of Attorney to the Halifax courthouse to be recorded.

George Washington's land appears on at least one Gates Co., N. C., tax list:

> 1785 Tax List, Gates Co., N. C. (Archives, Raleigh):-
> Capt. Jethro Sumner's Company -
> Genl. George Washington - 1000 acres - Gates Co.
> (No polls listed, white or black) Land valued > at 2 Pounds. Tax: 5 Shillings.

Gates Co., N. C., Deed Book 2, pp. 330-333 - 17 May 1791 - John Lewis, Attorney in Fact of George Washington, and executor to the will of Fielding Lewis, dec'd., of "Fredericks Burg," (Spotsylvania Co.), Va. - to John Cowper of Gates Co., N. C. - "Whereas the aforsaid George Washington & Fielding Lewis did Receive a Deed Conveying the Premises hereafter mentioned to them Jointly in Fee Simple...." - this indenture witnesseth that the sd John Lewis, attorney & executor afsd., on consideration of 1090 Pounds current money of Virginia, by sd John Cowper (paid), convey to sd John Cowper two tracts of land which were willed to Marmaduke Norfleet by his father, Thomas Norfleet, of Nansemond Co., Va., it being half the land which sd Thomas purchased from William Jones for 275 acres, 5 April 1697, and the other the sd Thomas purchased of one Charles Drury for 40 acres, 20 July 1721; also one other tract which was granted to sd Marmaduke Norfleet by Earl of Granville, 23 July 1760, for 450 acres - all three tracts situated in Gates Co., formerly Perquimans, N. C., at a place called the White Oak Spring - "also one Other Tract of Land Lying being situated neare the Said Three tracts aforsaid where(?) granted as aforsaid by Deed Dated July 23 1760 all which said Four Parcels of Land Situated as aforesaid Contain by estimation" 1093½ acres, agreeable to the bounds most particularly described in the deeds afsd being the sd four tracts of land which the afsd George Washington and Fielding Lewis purchased of the sd Marmeduke Norfleet, on 26 April 1766, as recorded in Perquimans Co. /S/ George Washington by John Lewis, John Lewis by Exr. of Fielding Lewis. Witnesses: Demsey Copland, Riddick Hunter, Thos. Mann, Arther his X mark Jones.

> Suffolk, Va. - 17 May 1791 - "Then Received payment as within Mentioned. Witnesses: Riddick Hunter, Demsey Copland. /S/ John Lewis.

Proven Gates Co., N. C. - May 1792, by oath of Riddick Hunter. Test Law Baker, (CCC), Christ^{er} Riddick, P. R.

Gates Co., N. C. - Deed Book 2, pp. 334-336 - 18 May 1791 - John Cowper of Gates Co., N. C., to John Lewis of Fredericksburg, Va. - Whereas sd John Cowper is indebted to sd John Lewis in sum of 600 Pounds current money of Va. - this indenture witnesseth that sd John Cowper in consideration of the debt afsd., & also the sum of 5 Shillings paid by the sd John Lewis, conveys to sd John Lewis the four tracts of land which were transferred to sd John Cowper by deed, 17 day of the month & year afsd., by the sd John Lewis, attorney in fact of George Washington and Executor of Fielding Lewis, dec'd., containing by estimation 1093½ acres. Signed: John Cowper, John Lewis. Witnesses: Demsey Copland, Riddick Hunter, Arther his X mark Jones. Proven Gates Co., May 1792, by oath of Riddick Hunter. Test Law Baker, CC, Christ^{r} Riddick, P. R.

The following document was recorded along with the foregoing: 18 May 1791 - "Received of Mr. John Cowper an order on William Fontaine of Hanover County of Virginia for one hundred & sixty pounds Virginia Currency also his three several for the undelivered sums of one hundred & forty five pounds thirteen shillings & four pence each Current Money of the State aforsaid repayable on the first day of September next one other on on (sic) the 18 Day of May 1792 one Other on the 18th Day of May 1793 which Bonds when paid Shall be Considered a full Discharge of the within Mentioned Six hundred pounds it is to be Understood & tis agreed to that the order on William Fontain is Received as a Certain payment in part of the Within Mentioned six hundred pounds." /S/ John Lewis. C. Riddick, P. Regest^{r} 1792.

In addition to the above 1093½ acres, George Washington owned land as a shareholder in the Dismal Swamp Company. In 1785 there was a meeting in Richmond of the Dismal Swamp Company. At this, or a later meeting, the shareholders in the company were allotted specific tracts of land in the swamp, rather than holding it in common. George Washington's share was about 5000 acres.

In 1795 (General) Henry Lee asked about purchasing the plantation George Washington owned in the Dismal Swamp of North Carolina (land allotted to Washington as his share of the Dismal Swamp Company). Washington wrote to Thomas Newton and to John Page (Letters of 23 Sept. 1795, in Writings of Washington, Vol. 34, p. 313) asking the present worth of the land. To Page he wrote: "I am told there is no building on it, the fencing all destroyed and depredations committed on the timber. As the property is expensive rather than productive, I am disposed to part with it." Eventually he exchanged this land with Lee for 71 shares (at $40 each) in the new Bank of Columbia (note says see Washington's Ledger C, folio 37). This was not the end of Washington's worries, as the stock was not all it should have been and Lee struggled for years to liquidate his debt. (Freeman, Vol. 7, pp. 307-308)

Henry Lee lived in Nansemond Co., Va., and Gates Co., N. C., dying intestate c1804 in the latter county. Washington's Dismal Swamp Land, which Lee acquired in 1795, probably lay entirely in North Carolina. The Dismal Swamp is now only about twenty miles long, but was formerly much largerand practically impenetrable. Lake Drummond (in Va.), in the center of the Swamp, is about five miles long. William Byrd visited the Swamp in 1728, and the Great Dismal Swamp Canal (1828) connects Chesapeake Bay and Albemarle Sound. The area has been considerbaly altered by subsequent draining and lumbering. The scene of Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel, "Dred," was laid in the area.

Thus George Washington and Fielding Lewis owned 1093½ acres in Perquimans-Gates Co., N. C., from 1766 to 1791; and Washington owned 5000 acres in the Great Dismal Swamp from c1785 to 1795.

N. C. REVOLUTIONARY MILITARY PAPERS

There are 1422 folders of Revolutionary Military Papers on file in the Archives in Raleigh, North Carolina (Files No. SS760 through SS804). The bulk of the material is dated in the early 1800's, but some documents are dated as early as 1760's and some as late as the 1850's. In the abstracts below, the emphasis is strictly genealogical (family relationships), and persons interested in any particular record are urged to obtain full copies from the Archives (P. O.
